Red Cross Notes

The signing of the treaty of peace does not end the work of the Red Cross, but rather makes it more active as the soldiers keep coming in.

Congress has made provisions for the United Health Service to enlarge and build hospitals, appoint medical examiners and give immediate medical attention and hospital care to all discharged soldiers, sailors and marines.

By this act the Public Health Service is empowered to act without delay in all instances of men suffering with physical and mental disability.

The medical examiner appointed in this community is Dr. J. B. Cox, and the Red Cross is asked to assist him in this vital piece of service by referring all cases of disability to him and looking into the family conditions of the disabled. If there are yet those who are disabled and need medical or other assistance, please get in touch either with the medical examiner or the Red Cross, and we will render all assistance possible.

We have the names of two persons, Steve Dabney and Allie Wilkins, whom we desire to locate and any information as to the whereabouts of either will be appreciated.

Eye Injured

Conway Jenkins, chief mechanic at the Jenkins & Sons Garage, happened to a very painful accident several days ago. While working on a piece of steel a fine sliver penetrated his left eyeball. It became so painful that he went to Jackson for treatment, but failing to get relief, he left Tuesday evening for Cincinnati to be treated by a specialist and to save the eye if possible. His many friends here hope he will be successful in his mission.

Protracted Revival

Eld. Hall L. Calloun, of Bethany College, West Virginia, is conducting a revival at the Christian church, having begun last Sunday. He is a very fine speaker, a strong Biblical student and presents the doctrines of his church in an attractive way. Mr. Bucy, his singer, makes the singing a very interesting feature of the meeting. The services will continue some time.

Hauling Handles

The Francisco & Shannon handle factory in the Seventh district is cutting quite a lot of handles this season. Last Monday twenty-four wagon loads of the partly finished product were driven into Huntingdon in one procession. A former citizen of that district commenting on the splendid mule teams, driven by the farmers of that community, as shown on this occasion, said they represented more wealth than was shown by the aggregate taxable property of the entire district thirty or forty years ago. The farmers of the Seventh are on the uplift and there are some mighty good people among them.

Mrs. Joyner Dead

Mrs. Nacissus Joyner, widow of Thomas Joyner, died suddenly Friday morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. Ollie Kee, in Huntingdon. She was 82 years old and was unusually active for one of her age. She had not been quite well, but was able to be out in the garden picking beans the day before she died, and retired feeling all right. Upon waking the next morning she complained of a smothering sensation, went to the medicine chest and got a bottle of camphor and sat down on the bed, calling the family. Mr. and Mrs. Kee rushed to her aid, but she expired in a few moments, heart failure being the cause.

Mrs. Joyner was a member of the Baptist church, a fine woman and is survived by her niece, Mrs. Kee, whom she reared from a two-year-old child, one brother, William Taylor, of Buena Vista, and two sisters, Mrs. Martha Ozier, of Buena Vista, and Mrs. Hillard, of Westport. She came here about a year ago from Buena Vista, and the remains were taken to the Taylor cemetery in that community Saturday for interment. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Marshall Joyner.

Mrs. Belew Dead

Mrs. Clarice Jane Belew, an aged lady, died at the home of H. L. Chandler, near Leach, last Tuesday morning at 3:15 o'clock, after a short illness. The death was caused from a complication of diseases. She was 76 years, 6 months and 19 days old. She was a member of the Christian church and was a most excellent woman. Her husband has been dead several years and she has no children. The burial occurred Wednesday at the Sellers burying ground, after appropriate funeral services.

A Double Wedding

The following account of a double wedding taken from Monday's Banner will be interesting to our local readers, as the brides at one time resided in Huntingdon:

A beautiful double wedding was solemnized at the First Methodist church in Hickman, Ky., Tuesday night, when Miss Sara Douglass was married to Mr. Ben F. Briggs, and Miss Lula Mary Douglass was married to Mr. Eugene W. Hastings, of Louisville.

The Rev. R. C. Douglass, pastor of the First Methodist church and father of the two brides, officiated.

There was a large bridal party, and it is of interest to many Nashvillians that the matron of honor for Miss Lula Mary Douglass was Mrs. Douglass Moore, formerly Miss Edna Gray Watts, of this city.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, Johnson Hotel, Huntingdon, gave the following account of her experience with Doan's Kidney Pills December 21, 1914: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for quite a little while. Rheumatic pains were the worst symptom of my complaint and the pains in my lower limbs were often severe. My back was lame and sore, too. Whenever I feel any of these symptoms coming on, I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them a little while, my trouble disappears. I wouldn't be without this remedy and always recommend it."

TROUBLE HASN'T RETURNED.

On May 25, 1918, Mrs. Johnson said: "I am glad to say I have had no return of kidney complaint since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me in 1914. All I said at that time still hold good."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Johnson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
